

QUIZ

Christmas is celebrated in very different ways around the World. Go to the Santa's Net website at www.santas.net/aroundtheworld.htm and find the answers to our Christmas quiz.

The answers begin with each letter (in order) of...

- M is for _____. In the Nova Scotia region of Canada, these people dress up, make a lot of noise and ask for candy.
- E is for _____. In Denmark and Norway, this creature (called Nisse) plays jokes on people.
- R is for _____. In Poland, these are church services held early in the morning on the four Sundays of Advent.
- R is for _____. In the African country of Ghana, fufu is a meal which includes this ingredient.
- Y is for _____. This is the Russian name for a Christmas tree.
- C is for _____. In India, people give presents to their family and baskeesh to the poor. How do you say...
- H is for _____. This is a New Year festival in Scotland.
- R is for _____. In France, this is a late supper held on Christmas Eve.
- I is for _____. It's the surname of an American novelist who first popularized Santa Claus.
- S is for _____. In Ireland, the women bake this kind of cake.
- T is for _____. In Wales, people make this kind of sweet toffee (a boiled confection).
- M is for _____. In the Czech Republic there's a legend which says that a girl can tell her future at Christmas. For example, she'll know if she is going to _____ the next year.
- A is for _____. This saint introduced the Christian celebration of Christmas to England.
- S is for _____. In Pakistan, Bara Din is a church _____ that people attend on Christmas Day.